2001 FLYERS CUP SCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONSHIP:

The "Stanley Cup of High School Hockey" Enters the new Millenium

BY MELISSA WILSON

MARCH, 1980 - With Flyers Fever still sweeping the Delaware Valley on the heels of back-to-back Stanley Cups, kids all over the area were lacing up their skates, and ice hockey was becoming a popular sport. High school clubs were popping up everywhere, and teams competed for ice time in nine local rinks. Yet there was little support and no media coverage for these young players, most of whom played for teams that weren't even recognized by their own high schools as a varsity sport. The Flyers saw an opportunity to jump in and give some excitement and exposure to these young men and to youth hockey in 1980, with the creation of the first legitimate scholastic hockey tournament in the Philadelphia area, the Flyers Cup.

"Our focus at the time was on the problem that the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association (PIAA) wouldn't recognize high school hockey," recalled Bob Butera, then president of the Flyers organization. "We asked ourselves what we could do to emphasize the kids playing hockey here, and what we decided was to establish our own championship."

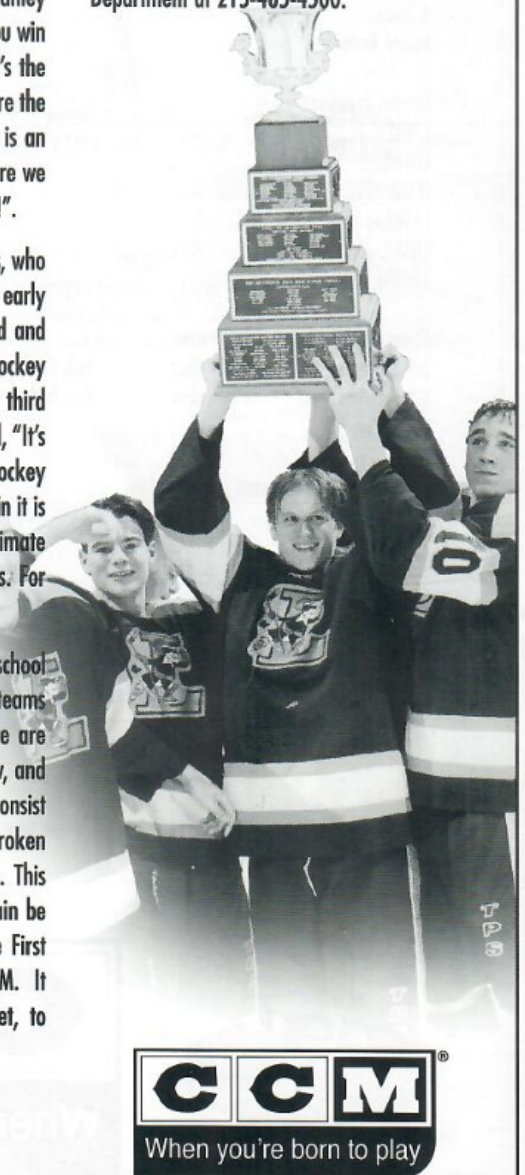

That first tournament had four local teams from the three area leagues competing at the Class of '23 Rink on the University of Pennsylvania campus. Archbishop Carroll and Malvern Prep were the finalists, and the Carroll Panthers emerged triumphant on the strength of Scott "The Shot" Chamness's four hat tricks in four days. Chamness was the tournament's leading scorer, and the inaugural winner of the Bobby Clarke Trophy for Flyers Cup MVP. He became the tourney's first star and media darling, leading Archbishop Carroll to three Inter-Scholastic Hockey League titles.

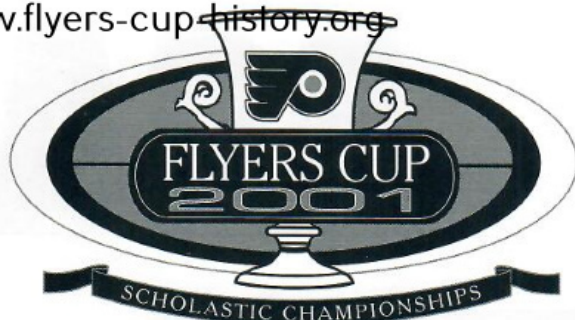

The tournament skyrocketed from there - in it's second year, high school teams already considered it the greatest honor they could achieve. Young players quoted in the 1981 Flyers Cup Program Book said "It's a new thing, but it's a way for us to get recognition for our school, and for ourselves." "It's a big goal, because it's the final step. The Stanley Cup is the same for the pro teams...if you win that, you're a real champion. For us, it's the Flyers Cup, because if you win that, you're the champion of all the schools." "The Cup is an honor to be in. We're in a situation where we could get recognition all around the city!"

Central Bucks East coach Andy Richards, who founded the Suburban league in the early '70's, is still one of the most recognized and respected members of the high school hockey community today. In 1982, in only the third year of the Cup's existence, Richards said, "It's the dream of every kid in high school hockey just to play in the Flyers Cup. Just to be in it is a utopia for some. We have our first legitimate chance this year to get into the playoffs. For us, that's a dream in itself."

The Flyers' influence has helped high school hockey programs nearly triple from 32 teams in 1980 to close to 100 in 2000. There are more than 40 area ice hockey rinks now, and this year's Flyers Cup tournament will consist of the best 28 teams from six leagues, broken up into three tiers based on skill level. This year's AAA championship game will again be held back in the heart of town, at the First Union Spectrum on March 27th, 7:30 PM. It will be broadcast on Comcast SportsNet, to more than one million viewers.

Even with all of the excitement generated from that first Flyers Cup in 1980, no one knew how large this tournament would become, and that it would mean so much to all area youth hockey players. For more information on this year's tournament, contact the Flyers/Phantoms Fan Development Department at 215-465-4500.
