FLYERS CUP EMBRACES CHANGE IN 25TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON

By Matt Sacks
Breakaway! Magazine

During the 2003-04 off-season the Flyers Cup committee made significant strides to align Delaware Valley high school hockey with the major high school hockey hotbeds across North America with respect to tiering.

For the 2004 tournament, public schools with a PIAA male enrollment figure of 700 or less students were eligible for the 16-team class 'A' field. Public schools with a male enrollment figure of over 700 students, as well as all private and Catholic schools, were grouped into a pool of AAA/AA teams, from which the 16-team 'AA' field and 12-team 'AAA' field were selected.

The eight teams that comprised the AAA division during the regular season received an automatic berth into the Flyers Cup 'AAA' tournament. Each of the seven participating high school leagues was guaranteed two additional teams into the tournament. The remaining 26 slots across the three divisions were filled by invitation by the Flyers Cup Selection Committee.

To fill the remaining slots, each league (CPIHL, ESHL, ICSHL, LBCSHL, LVSHL, SHSHL and SJHSIHL) was responsible for nominating a preliminary set of teams from its ranks more than a month before the final selections took place Feb. 29. Committee members were urged to see as many of the pre-nominated teams play in person to gauge the ability of each to compete in the Flyers Cup tournament. On Feb. 29, the Flyers Cup Selection Committee, which was designed to operate much like the NCAA tournament selection committees, analyzed won-loss records, head-to-head competition and strength of schedule to determine the most deserving squads. (Each of the seven participating leagues selected their own representative to be a part of the Selection Committee)

The 'AAA' Flyers Cup tournament is comprised of the 12 strongest teams from the AAA/AA pool in the committee's determination. The next strongest 16 teams from the pool were selected for the AA tournament, and the strongest 16 'A' teams comprise the class 'A' Flyers Cup tournament. In all, 44 teams will participate in this season's tournament, making this the largest Flyers Cup tournament ever.

The top four AAA seeds will receive a bye into the second round. #5 will play #12, #6 will play #11, and so on. In the AA and 'A' tournaments, teams will be seeded with #1 playing #16 in the first round.

In the past, Flyers Cup tiers have been arranged by perceived skill level. In embarking to group schools based on male enrollment, the Flyers Cup Committee has placed hockey on the path traveled by other major high school varsity sports. High school football, baseball and basketball programs in the area classify their teams based on male enrollment, and hockey is classified by male enrollment in parts of the country where the finest high school hockey is played. The move also brings the Flyers Cup selection criteria much closer to the criteria used by the members of the Penguins Cup selection committee in Western PA. The Flyers Cup Committee sees its decision as a major step toward wider acceptance and recognition of high school hockey in the Delaware Valley.

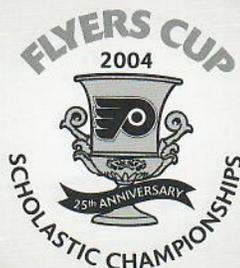

We may see a number of 'firsts' in the 2003-04 tournaments. Should Malvern Prep win the 'AAA' cup this year, it would be the first team to win four consecutive Flyers Cups at any level. Malvern seniors Chris Campanale and Will Averona have a chance to be the first two players ever to have their names engraved on the Flyers Cup in each of their four seasons of high school hockey.

Chris Brennan of Radnor has won the class 'A' Flyers Cup scoring title two years running. Should Brennan claim that title again this year, he will be the first player ever at any level to lead the Flyers Cup in scoring three years in succession.

Radnor's Brennan and Eddie Devine, along with Malvern's Warren Byrne, will also be looking to become the only players to be named to the CCM All-tournament team for three straight seasons. More importantly, Radnor is gunning to become the first three-peat champion at class 'A' in tournament history. Pennsbury is the only other school to win two championships at class 'A', winning championships in 1993 and 2000.

Only one team, Conestoga 1985 and 1986, has ever won back-to-back state championships from the Eastern side of the State, an accomplishment that only Radnor has a chance to duplicate this season.

The Flyers Cup Selection Committee has worked very hard to produce a competitive, exciting tournament at all three levels. We wish the best of luck to all teams and look forward to seeing the winners carry the Eastern PA banner against the champions of the Western PA Penguins Cup in the state championships!

VECTOR BREAK-AWAY

CCMSPORTS.COM

V-FIT[®] PRO COMFORT

- The Vector™ last offers a snug fit in the heel with ample room for the forefoot, helping you react as quickly as the game demands.

The Comfort Tongue features a lightweight molded "saddle" lace-bite guard for increased comfort and protection.

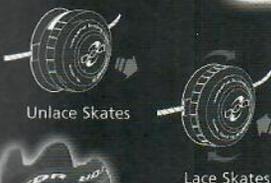

- The new lightweight exposed T-rib toecap was shortened to optimize forefoot wrap and comfort. It also features thicker ribbed portions for protection and durability.

SKATELOCK[™] DYNAMIC SUPPORT

- The innovative SkateLock™ ties up the forefoot, locking-in support and comfort for the whole game.
- It also allows you to customize your support with an independent tightening of the top 3 eyelets.
- The SkateLock™ sustains the desired support throughout all the skating motions that the game demands. You don't have to fight the skate, it moves with you.

V-LIGHT INCREASED AGILITY

- A lighter skate means an increase in stride frequency. The Vector™ Pro allows you to accelerate faster out of the blocks and maximize your top end velocity.
- The Externo-Skel™ technology is the key to reducing mass in the skate. Furthermore, it delivers increased support, protection and durability.
- The Pro metal-mesh quarter package is lightweight and over 5 times more durable than traditional nylon packages.

Unlace Skates

Lace Skates

Available with Boa[®] technology for junior and youth sizes.
