New Faces Join Perennial Powers For 2008 Flyers Cup

by Matt Sacks

As always, there will be some new faces in the 2008 Flyers Cup. Sun Valley, for instance, is making its first Flyers Cup appearance in the 21st Century. It's also been a few years since we've seen the likes of Boyertown, Central Bucks East or Strath Haven. Yet there are plenty of other teams we've grown accustomed to seeing that are back for a return engagement.

Not surprisingly, all three Flyers Cup winners of 2007 return to the tournament. What is surprising is that all three scoring leaders from each respective division return. Nick Seravalli of Holy Ghost, T.J. Haeberle of Haverford High and Alex Cottle of West Chester Henderson each played integral parts in the success of their respective teams last season, all in their junior year. Henderson goalie, Rob Mattern captured class 'A' MVP honors as a junior, and he returns for another stab at it as well. Only twice has a player won consecutive Bobby Clarke Awards: Rob Shaner of GA did it in 1994 and 1995, while Jerry DiStefano of Bonner won twice in 1992 and 1993. Radnor's Chris Brennan is the only player to win two MVP's at the 'A' level doing it in 2003 and 2004.

If Seravalli, Haeberle or Cottle should lead their division in scoring for a second time, they will join Chris Brennan as the only player to win consecutive scoring titles in the Flyers Cup at any level. Brian Smith of Unionville captured two scoring titles at class 'A', but they were not consecutive. (1993 and 1995)

Four players named to the AAA all-tournament team will return in 2008. Joining Seravalli will be Archbishop Ryan's Donald Oliver, Cardinal O'Hara's Sean Coll and La Salle's netminder Dan Piro. Haeberle was the only underclassman on the AA squad, while two other Warriors, Billy Latta and B.J. Blaker join Cottle and Mattern from the class 'A' team.

Haverford High is in position to do something that only Malvern Prep has done in the past: win four consecutive Flyers Cup. Seniors David Baker and T.J. Haeberle were on the 2005 Haverford squad as freshman and look to join Malvern's Tim Horn, Will Averona and Chris Campanale as the only four time winners of the storied Flyers cup.

Henderson is the only defending champion to retain the #1 seed in 2008. Holy Ghost got off to a slow start but rallied in the end, garnering the #6 seed at AAA. Haverford High was consistent throughout the year, but a big mid-season loss to Ridley, PA helped their stock plummet to #3.

This season's format will be the same as the past two seasons with #12 playing #20 in the first round of A and AA action. The #13 seed will play the #19 seed, and so on, until we are down to a 16-team bracket and eventually a Flyers Cup champion at each level. Seeds #1 through #11 have first-round byes.

Flyers Cup Preview

La Salle, Perk Valley Aim to Make Amends For Disappointing Finishes in 2007 Cup

by Matt Sacks

Class AAA

Once again I will attempt to run through the Flyers Cup brackets, making predictions and having a perfect record. Of course that won't happen, but it's sure fun trying.

I'll start in the AAA division where #11 Germantown Academy will face #6 Holy Ghost Prep. GA is in a rebuilding year and as much as I'd like to see them become the Cinderella team of the '08 tourney, I can't see them getting by the Firebirds in the first round.

#7 Roman Catholic is fresh off of a LBCSHL title run that saw the Cahillites fall just short against Holy Ghost. #10 Salesianum underachieved a bit in AAA play this year, but have found a groove in the ICSHL playoffs. The two teams tied 3-3 in the regular season. I'll go with home ice advantage, as it's a long haul to Grundy from Delaware, and tab Roman, 4-2.

Bonner picks up the #8 seed and will host #9 St. Joseph's Prep at the Skatium. The Hawks crushed Bonner 7-1 in the regular season AAA league game, but Bonner has looked better in the second half of the season. I'll go with Bonner in a one-goal game.

The winner of the Bonner - St' Joe's game has the tough task of playing La Salle in round two. Neither team figures to have much luck against the Explorers, as La Salle should take either squad by several goals.

Staying in the same side of the bracket, #4 Father Judge and #5 Archbishop Ryan hold a long-standing rivalry and will meet in a very physical battle at Grundy. Ryan won both regular season games against Judge, but the Raiders have been dealing with some internal issues that could possibly affect their focus. It's tough to win three straight against a good team, and Judge a good team. I'll take the Crusaders to win in a dogfight.

Should Judge beat Ryan they would then face La Salle in the semi-finals. They lost 4-1 in La Salle's first game of the season, I don't see this one being any closer than that.

#3 Cardinal O'Hara met Holy Ghost at the Skatium and ended up with a 5-4 loss in a thrilling game. Brian Newman is out for the season and Sean Coll's status is unknown. With a healthy, surging Ghost team on the upsurge this time of year, I think the Lions will get upset here, unless HGP plays overconfidently.

The last quarter final will pit #2 Malvern Prep against Roman Catholic. Malvern was shocked right out of the gate in the ICSHL playoffs against class 'A' Kennett. Roman skated stride for stride with Malvern in the regular season. Each team had about 35 shots and Malvern prevailed 3-2. I think this game will have Malvern winning by a two-goal margin.

That would set up a semi-final of Malvern and Holy Ghost. One drank from the cup a year ago and they are thirsty for more. Malvern is now three years removed from their dominance with five straight wins and would like to return to the top. Ghost outshot the Firebirds 30-19 in a recent February game, but Andrew Zoeller was the difference and Malvern rolled on with a 4-2 win. I'm going to go with HGP in the rematch making last year's champions this season's Cinderella team.

Last season HGP shocked the world with their overtime win against La Salle in the semi-finals. The Explorers must be licking their lips in anticipation of a rematch. It will only happen if both teams make it to the finals, and since my predictions are usually perfect, look for La Salle win and their first Flyers Cup in a decade.

Class AA

The AA and A levels will feature 20 teams, meaning the first round will have seeds 13-20 face off in a "play-in" round to reduce to a field of 16.

Face Off Circle will host a double-header. The first game will be #14 C.B. East against #19 Ridley. 'East is fresh off a disappointing forfeit loss to Rock North, a game East won 6-5 but in which he mistakenly used a suspended player. Ridley, which could not have been sure it would make the cut, is built on goaltending and defense. If they can limit the chances of Matt Hughes, they have a chance. I'm calling for a first round upset, Ridley 2-1.

The second game of the double header will see a rematch of last year's second round. This time #16 Wm. Tennent will play host to last year's semi-finalist, #17 Washington Township. Tennent has the talent to do some damage if they come together and I think they will advance into the field of 16.

At Twin Ponds East, #13 Central Dauphin will play host to Northampton. The LVSHL has yet to win a game in Flyers Cup. I've picked them in the past just based on the law of averages, apparently it doesn't apply in high school hockey. I'm done with that. I'll wait until an LVSHL team wins a game, or has a team that looks threatening. The K-Kids have had a good season but I don't play anyone outside the LVSHL. C.D. wins in a close one. Over at Iceline, #18 seed Parkland will play #15 Boyertown. I like to think that Parkland can pull this one off, but I've picked them in the past and they have ruined my otherwise perfect bracket. I'm going with the safe play and picking Boyertown.

The round of 16 will see #1 Pennsbury host Tennent or Washington Township. I picked Tennent so let's go in that direction. Pennsbury handled the Panthers 5-0 early in the season. Tennent had a chance at redemption with Barnes and Gannon on the shelf and couldn't capitalize, losing 6-4. A healthy Pennsbury squad could go a long way, and wins this one 4-1.

#8 C.B. South is coming off a run that saw them make it to the SHSHL finals (results still pending at press time). They have a tough draw in #9 Downingtown East. South has the momentum and the home ice advantage, I'll take the Titans, 4-2.

#5 Conestoga is reeling from a 12-3 loss to Perkiomen Valley in the ICSHL playoffs. #12 Cumberland Valley has to play without suspended goalie Harrison Rodkey. Rodkey gave CV a fighting chance, but with him out of the line-up the Pioneers should have a much easier time of it.

#4 Methacton is one of the hottest second half teams and they await Central Dauphin. C.D. will need to slow down the potent Methacton offense. Even if they hold the Warriors to four goals, I think that will be enough for Methacton to advance.

#3 Council Rock North will need to get their heads straight for Ridley. They might be hoping for C.B. East to win this game so they can avenge themselves in the "forfeit game" of the SHSHL playoffs. I think Rock will rebound and regroup and take this game against either opponent.

#6 Pennridge leapfrogged North Penn with their playoff win in double OT. They will face #11 Cherokee, a team capable of pulling off an upset. The Chiefs will have to stop one of the best first lines in hockey, a task that few have been able to do. Pennridge 5-2.

#7 North Penn will host #10 Council Rock South. North Penn took the regular season game and will play this one against a Rock South team with a brand new coach. I'm not sure how the Hawks will respond to a new coach this late in the season, but I suspect it will be awkward. North Penn advances.

#2 Haverford High will host Boyertown at the Skatium. Boyertown looks good on paper with a 13-7-0 record. However, they don't have many quality wins against AA teams. They did beat Downingtown East, but so did Haverford. Haverford also beat Methacton and Conestoga, two teams that scored wins against Boyertown. Haverford has had trouble getting out of the first round in the past, but always manage to pull through. I'll take the Fords, 6-2.

The elite eight would start with a rematch between Conestoga and Methacton. 'Stoga won the head-to-head match-up, but Methacton's hot second half earned them the higher seed. While the game is on 'Stoga's home ice, Methacton is on a roll and I think they will keep on rolling right into the final four.

Pennsbury awaits their rematch with C.B. South. Colin Fafara posted a 25-save shutout in the regular season contest that ended 2-0 for the Falcons. Pennsbury has been the best AA team all season, and if they are fully healthy, they'll advance to the final four.

Rock North and Pennridge gives us another SHSHL match-up. North won big, 5-2, in the regular season. Pennridge is a different team and their riding a wave in the SHSHL playoffs. I'm going with the upset here as #6 advances to the semis.

The 'dream' match here would materialize if North Penn could knock off Haverford High and play arch-rival Pennridge in the semi-finals at Hatfield. There would probably be 1,000 people in the stands for the game, but to realize the dream will require the Knights to defeat the three-time defending Flyers Cup champs. When the smoke clears, I think Haverford takes the game by a goal or two.

This sets up Pennsbury and Methacton in the first semi-final. Pennsbury's first line is excellent, as is Methacton's. Methacton is a little deeper and may have the better defensive corps. If Methacton's goalie can hold off Pennsbury's scoring attack, they could pull off the big upset. Methacton in a shocker!

The other semi pits Haverford High against Pennridge. Both teams rely heavy on their first lines. HH has been there before and knows what it takes to win Flyers Cup games. Pennridge will come hard all night and create turnovers with the forecheck, but in the end it will be a fourth straight trip to the finals for Haverford.

Waiting for the Fords at the Spectrum will be Methacton. Haverford won 6-4, with an empty netter back in November. That's history! This is a different Methacton team and they're my pick for a Cinderella tournament win and their first-ever Flyers Cup.

Class A

The Class A tourney starts off with #14 Unionville and #19 Interboro. These two played to a goaltenders' duel in the regular season. Each sophomore goalie faced over 35 shots and the game ended 2-1 in favor of Unionville. One can only expect a higher scoring game, one I think Unionville will win by a 5-2 mark.

The Other game at Iceline will see #16 Kennett and #17 Clearview battle it out. Kennett is much better than its 5-9-4 record indicates, and spent some time in the Breakaway! top 10 this year. Clearview wasn't even expecting to be here and was surprised by the selection. I think Kennett will roll on in a low-scoring contest.

#13 Wissahickon will host league rival, #20 Plymouth Whitemarsh at Face Off Circle. Wissahickon handled the Colonials all three times this season and I don't see anything different happening in this one. Call it 8-3, Wissahickon.

Flyers Cup Preview

The last play-in game will be #15 Central York against #18 Sun Valley. The Vanguards will make the long haul to York Arena, giving Central York the "bus legs" advantage. It's also Sun Valley's first trip to the Flyers Cup. I'm not sure which way to go on this one so I'll go with home ice advantage, 4-3 Central York.

The first round would see a rematch of last seasons semi-final between Kennett and #1 Henderson. Kennett suffered from graduation while Henderson returned the bulk of their team. Last season's game ended 4-2 including an empty-netter, but I don't see this one being as close. 5-1, Henderson.

Staying in the top half of the bracket, #8 Lower Dauphin will host #9 W.C. East. This is a game I'll probably want to see. It looks like the best match-up of the second round, as an #8 vs. #9 should be. Both teams are playing well right now. Everyone says it's tough to win in a CPHL building, so I'll stay with that and go with Lower Dauphin.

#12 Moorestown will travel to Aston to meet #5 Strath Haven. Neither team has played too tough of a schedule, but Strath Haven's looked to be a bit more rugged. They did win the ICSHL regular season and only lost two games all year. I'll take the Panthers, 4-2.

#4 Shawnee awaits Wissahickon and will be in for another rude awakening if they think this is a cakewalk! Sure, Shawnee boasts the top four scorers in the SJHSIHL, but they haven't faced a player quite like Jayson Ritchie yet this year. This should be a good game with Shawnee coming out on top....IF they stick to fundamentals and don't take the Trojans lightly.

The bottom half of the bracket starts with #3 Hershey taking on Unionville. Each team boasts a Breakaway! freshman of the year in 2007 winner Matt Milana and 2006 winner Tyler Lewis. Milana has won big games for the Indians this year and scores in bunches. Hershey is bigger, deeper and more physical than the Indians, however, and should come away with a win.

#6 Bayard Rustin will meet #11 Upper Dublin. Rustin has lost only four times all year, three times to Henderson and once to AA Downingtown East. If Upper Dublin can find a way to pull this one off I'll be impressed. UD has a good squad but I feel Rustin is better than their #6 seed.

#7 Marple Newtown had a surprising season and was rewarded with a home game against Central rival #10 Springfield. Trouble is, Iceworks is also the Cougars home rink. Marple exploded for six second period goals in the regular season match up, en route to a 6-4 win. Springfield doesn't usually give up goals in bunches like that and I think they will recoup from the ICSHL playoffs in time to turn it around. Call it 3-2, Springfield in a barn-burner.

#2 Perkiomen Valley may be the best team in the bracket, but lost heads-up against Henderson. Central York will have a long run if all of PV shows up. The Vikes should win by a handful of goals.

The quarterfinals would start off at Ice Line with Perkiomen Valley playing Springfield at 5:45. This could be a goaltenders' duel in making with Sutherland and McCullough stealing the show. PV just has too much offense, even for the stingy Cougar defense. The Vikes should take this one in an entertaining game.

Hershey vs Rustin at Iceline gives the lower seed the home advantage. Rustin could take advantage of that and upset the Trojans, but Hershey is no stranger to playing on the road in the Flyers Cup and is a perennial member of the final four. I'll take Hershey, 4-3.

The third game of the Ice Line triple-header will see Henderson take on Lower Dauphin or W.C. East. A Henderson vs East game at Iceline could break attendance records, but since I predicted UD to win the first game, I'll have to size them up against Henderson. Henderson would have benefited by playing a tougher cross-over schedule. Games against Upper Dublin and Upper Moreland just aren't enough to get a team ready for a team like Henderson. The Warriors win it, 5-2.

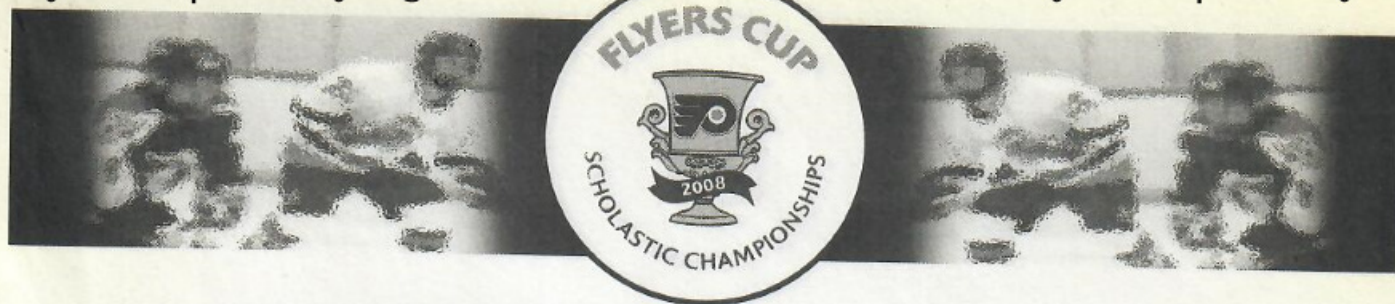

Over at Aston, Strath Haven and Shawnee will have completed their game by 8:30. This game will be a battle of first lines as each team sports one of the best lines in high school hockey. Strath Haven is bigger, and possess a good deal of speed. If they can stop the McDonald line they should pull out the mild upset on home ice.

The semifinals are set and #1 Henderson meets #5 Strath Haven. There will be a lot of talent on the ice for both teams. The team with the tighter defense is going to win. I see a run-and-gun game however with Henderson winning 6-5.

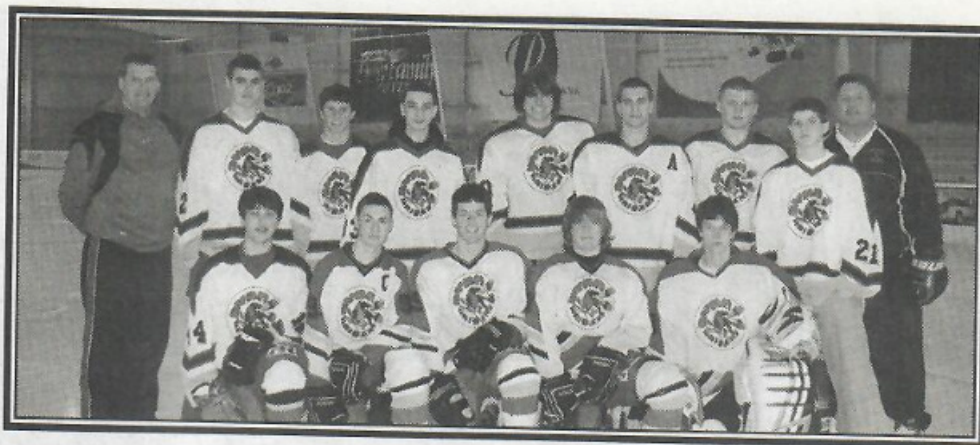

The other semi would pit #2 Perkiomen Valley against #3 Hershey. PV is loaded and deep. They also have a top goalie in Sutherland. Hershey has the talent to do it, but like last season, I think the run ends here. Perk Valley advances to the finals, 4-2.

Ah, the rematch of the final that never happened last season. Henderson beat Perkiomen Valley in the regular season 4-2. They will have played March 3, but this program was being read for the printer that evening. PV could win the playoff game, but that might give Henderson the wake-up call it needs to make the Flyers Cup run. I'll take Henderson to repeat as the Class 'A' Flyers Cup champions.

BREAKAWAY! SCHOLASTIC High School Top 10's*AAA

1- La Salle - The Explorers are not strangers to the #1 seed. They have yet to parlay that into a Flyers Cup championship in the 2000's. Is this the year they finally get the monkey off their back?

2- Malvern Prep - Lost a shocker to class 'A' Kennett in the ICSHL tournament. Maybe that's the wake-up call the Friars need to get ready for the Flyers Cup.

3- Holy Ghost Prep - 'Ghost gamered the six seed, but are much better than that. If they wish to return to glory, they'll probably have to beat La Salle in the finals.

4- Cardinal O'Hara - O'Hara took some big hits to its roster with injuries. The Lions are fairly deep, however, and will be able to compete. Getting Coll back would really help.

5- Archbishop Ryan - On paper the Raiders have a good team, but they have not been able to overcome the turmoil they've faced this season. Coaches Weller and Hunter know what they are doing - if the team comes together anything can happen.

6- Roman Catholic - Roman got off to a fast start then cooled down a bit. They got hot again at the end and rode a streak to the finals of the LBCSHL before losing to Holy Ghost. They'll need to carry that kind of play into the Flyers Cup.

7- Father Judge - Judge picks up the #4 seed and plays Ryan, a team they haven't beaten this season. Are the Crusaders are ready to hit their peak and advance to the next round?

8- St. Joseph's Prep - The Hawks hung in there with O'Hara, losing a playoff game 4-2. They beat Bonner in the previous game, 3-2 and will meet the Friars in the first round of the Flyers Cup.

9- Monsignor Bonner - Bonner thrashed Carroll 10-0 in the ESHL playoffs. Maybe that will give them the confidence they need going into the Flyers Cup?

10- Salesianum - The team I can't figure out! On paper they look good. They struggled through the AAA schedule, yet beat good teams in Strath Haven and Methacton in the ICSHL playoffs. Guessing game.

AA

1- Pennsbury - Injury-plagued at playoff time, the Falcons made an early disappearance in the LBCSHL playoffs. They should be healthy come Flyers Cup time and deserve the #1 seed.

2- Council Rock North - 'Rock was given a reprieve in the SHSHL playoffs, then lost the next game to C.B. South. They better regroup quick or it's going to be a short Flyers Cup for the Indians.

3- Haverford High - The Fords look to join Malvern as the only 4-peat team in Flyers Cup history. They know what they have to do. One thing to avoid: they've had first round scares in each of the last three seasons.

4- Conestoga - 'Stoga is reeling from a playoff loss to Perkiomen Valley. PV also beat Methacton twice this year which is why I didn't flip-flop them in the rankings.

5- Methacton - The Warriors are on fire, losing only one regular season game since November. Early losses were to Conestoga and Haverford; they might need to overcome one or both of them late in the Flyers Cup

6- North Penn - Dropped one to rival Pennridge in double OT of the SHSHL playoffs. They did beat the Rams twice in the regular season however. Can the Knights shake off the heart-breaker in time for the Flyers Cup?

7- Pennridge - Big upsets against Rock South and North Penn put Pennridge in the SHSHL finals. The Rams could be a sleeper in this year's Flyers Cup.

8- C.B. South - 'South has quietly gotten things done this year. They are on their way to the SHSHL finals against Pennridge and are only two years removed from a Flyers Cup finals appearance.

9- Downingtown East - The Cougars beat rival Downingtown West twice in the regular season and again in the playoffs. Their record against Flyers Cup probable AA and A teams is below .500 at 5-7-0

10- Council Rock South - Rumor has it that 'South fired coach Bussetti right after the loss to Pennridge. Interesting timing as the Flyers Cup tournament is about ten days away.

BREAKAWAY! SCHOLASTIC High School Top 10's

A

1- W.C. Henderson - The only defending champ to garner a #1 seed this year is Henderson. Can they repeat? All the tools are there, they just have to go get it.

2- Perkiomen Valley - The Vikings have run down some good AA competition lately with wins against Conestoga, D'Town East, Boyertown and Methacton. They should make whoever wins the Flyers Cup have to earn it.

3- Hershey - The Trojans will face arch-rival Lower Dauphin for the CPHL Championship. Hershey is no stranger to the Flyers Cup final four, but is it their time to taste victory?

4- Bayard Rustin - Rustin upset #2 Perkiomen Valley and landed wins against W.C. East and D'town East. If they could just find a way to get by Henderson.....

5- Shawnee - Shawnee was hurt last season due to the long lay-off between SJHSIHL playoffs and the start of the Flyers Cup. This year they will have a 10-day layoff to contend with. How will the Renegades respond?

6- Strath Haven - Dropped one to AAA Salesianum in the ICSHL playoffs, but that won't hurt their seeding in the Flyers Cup tourney. Wins against Haverford High and Springfield should help, however.

7- W.C. East - 'East is hot of late. They've won five of their last six with the only loss being a 6-5 final against Rustin. They've beaten Springfield and Kennett in the ICSHL playoffs.

8- Marple Newtown - After getting smoked by W.C. East, 7-1, Marple rebounded to beat Conestoga 5-4. Which Marple team will show up in the post season?

9- Lower Dauphin - The Falcons are going to the Flyers Cup for at least the eighth straight year. They made it to the finals once against Radnor; is it their time to get back for another chance at glory?

10- Springfield - The Cougars cooled off a bit during the later part of the season. They are a humble 2-3-1 in their last six games, including two playoff losses.
